(2) Subject to sub-sections (1) and (3), the Court shall only declare a child to be in need of care where it is satisfied that an order declaring the child to be in need of care would ensure that the standard of care of the child as a result of that order would be significantly higher than the standard presently maintained in respect of the child.

(3) For the purpose of sub-section (2), the Court shall, in assessing the standard of care of the child, consider the social and cultural standards of the community in which the parents, guardians or persons having the custody of the child (and, where appropriate, the extended family of the child) reside or with which they maintain social and cultural ties.

- (d) subject to sub-section (7), a direction to transfer the sole rights in relation to the guardianship of the child to the Minister or such other person, for such period, not extending beyond the eighteenth birthday of the child, as it thinks fit (including a direction relating to access of the parents, and such other persons as the court thinks fit, to the child).

(6) A period specified in an order under sub-section (5)(b) or (c) may be extended from time to time, as the Court thinks fit, for further periods, each not exceeding 12 months, and not extending beyond the eighteenth birthday of the child.

(7) An order shall not be made under sub-section (5) (d) unless the Court is satisfied that -

- (a) no other order that it may make will adequately provide for the welfare of the child; or
- (b) the parents of the child have, without reasonable excuse, failed to maintain substantial contact with the child during the period of 12 months before the application as a result of which the order is made.

(8) Where the Court makes a declaration under sub-section (4)(a), the Minister shall, as soon as practicable after the order containing the declaration is made, take out the order and serve a copy, together with a statement drawing attention to the rights of persons referred to in section 48 to seek under that section a variation of the order, on each party to the application and such other person, if any, as the Court directs.
