

ACT Heritage Library

1995 –

URL: <http://www.library.act.gov.au/find/history>

Details

The ACT Heritage Library is the state library of the Australian Capital Territory (ACT). It was officially opened in 1995, and is located in the suburb of Woden. The ACT Heritage Library collects, manages and provides access to material relevant to the ACT's documentary heritage. It offers assistance in researching matters relating to the ACT. The Library's collection includes local and regional newspapers, maps and plans, photograph collections, books, journals, archives and manuscripts relating to notable individuals, places or events in Canberra's history.

The ACT Heritage Library is part of Libraries ACT within the Territory Services Division, Department of Territory and Municipal Services, ACT Government.

Gallery

Group of homes at the Marymead Childrens Centre

Description: This image shows several buildings at the Marymead Children's Centre in Narrabundah, ACT.

Children playing inside Marymead Children's Centre, Canberra

Description: This image shows young children playing on tricycles inside the Marymead Children's Centre at Narrabundah, ACT.

More info

Related Entries

You can view this page online by visiting <https://www.findandconnect.gov.au/entity/act-heritage-library/>