

United Protestant Association of Victoria

1953? – 1955?

Other Names: • U.P.A. of Victoria

Details

The United Protestant Association of Victoria was one of four branches of the United Protestant Association in Australia. Other branches existed in Queensland, New South Wales and Tasmania. The four branches acted independently of each other, although all attempted to run children's Homes. The Victorian effort was small and shortlived; it appears there was only one U.P.A home in Victoria, Strathmore Lodge, which operated for two years before it was sold.
