

Murdoch Holiday Home

1954 – 1990?

Other Names: • Burnside Presbyterian Holiday Home, Huskisson

Details

The Murdoch Holiday Home was a holiday home run by Burnside Presbyterian Homes for Children. It opened at Murdoch Street, Huskisson on 6 November 1954. It was a holiday home for children living at other Burnside homes. Children from each of the Burnside homes spent two weeks at the Huskisson home every year. It was also named the Murdoch Holiday Home after the Murdoch family who provided Burnside with the finances for the building of the holiday home. The closing date for the Murdoch Holiday Home is currently unknown, however the property was sold by Burnside in 2003. The building was destroyed by a fire in 2010.

Gallery

The Murdoch Holiday Home at Huskisson, opened on Saturday 6th November, 1954

Description: This is an image of the Murdoch Holiday Home at Huskisson, also known as the Burnside Holiday Home. This image was published in Burnside: 75 years of caring. This image is undated. The date included is an estimate.

More info

Related Entries

Run by

- Burnside Presbyterian Orphan Homes \(1911 - 1955\)
- Burnside Presbyterian Homes for Children \(1955 - 1978\)

Resources

- Findlay, Amy, Suspicious Blaze, South Coast Register, 27 July 2010
-

You can view this page online by visiting <https://www.findandconnect.gov.au/entity/murdoch-holiday-home/>