

Church of England Boys' Home

1918 – 1976

- Other Names:
- Killara Family Home
  - Church of England Boys' Home, Carlingford
  - The Working Boys' Hostel
  - Carlingford Boys' Home
  - Buckland House
  - Spurway Cottage
  - Trigg Home
  - T.A. Field Cottage
  - Vickery Cottage
  - James Stuart Memorial Hostel
  - Buckland Memorial Home
  - Trigg Annex
  - Frank Johnstone Home
  - Broad Cottage
  - Terrigal Holiday Home

Details

---

The Church of England Boys' Home was for boys aged 6 to 18 years. It was established by Church of England Homes in 1918 in a rented house in Cronulla, before moving in 1920 to Carlingford occupying the building 'Minden'. Boys were sometimes transferred from the Church of England home, Havilah, upon reaching the age of 9.

Minden was extended the following year to enable the Home to accommodate 60 children when the addition of the No. 2 Home, known as the Tress Manning Home from 1929, opened on 7th May 1921. The following year, The Cumberland Argus and Fruitgrowers Advocate reported that the Home had received another grant to extend the No. 2 Home, creating space for a further 30 boys. They also noted that older boys had assisted with the building work to make improvements to the buildings and grounds, and that they attended the local state school, and received religious education from the rector of the parish.

On 10 December 1925, The Sydney Morning Herald reported that 81 boys lived at the homes in Carlingford. As part of a Christmas appeal for gifts noted that children were "either orphans, destitute, or needy children...[and] numbers of them are children of men who made the great sacrifice in the Great War".

In 1927 the Boys' Home moved to a new site further north on Pennant Hills Road, Carlingford, opening Buckland Memorial Home on 17th December 1927. In 1927 the Boys Hostel was also opened on the site in the old St Paul's Rectory, becoming known as the James Stuart Memorial Hostel in 1930.

As reported in The Cumberland Argus and Fruitgrowers Advocate, the Home was known for their annual December prize giving ceremony which focused not on scholarly achievements but on other qualities such as "always being ready to help". The Home relied on fundraising activities to support it including motor drives and fetes. Boys played sports including cricket and soccer and were placed in local leagues.

The Boys' Home continued to expand and in May 1928 two cottages were opened known as Vickery Cottage and the Frank Johnstone Home, though this was renamed Broad Cottage not long after. In 1934 Spurway Home was also opened, and in 1941 Trigg Annex was opened as part of the hostel. In 1942, Terrigal Holiday House was donated to the Boys' Home and was located at 14 Ocean View Drive, Wamberal. In 1947 Trigg Home was opened.

The Cumberland Argus and Fruitgrowers Advocate reported in February 1942:

At present there are 140 boys at the Homes. In addition to the usual school course, they receive vocational training. The names of 62 former pupils who have enlisted in the A.I.F. and the R.A.A.F. are inscribed on the Honor Roll.

Gwen Pearce shared recollections from her time in the Church of England Girls' Home and how she interacted with her brother who was in the boys Home as part of a submission to the Inquiry into Children in Institutional Care:

My first home was a Church of England Home in Carlingford, we used to go out to school there. My brother Ken was in the boys home and we would see each other on the way to school. We would try to talk to each other but would be stopped and get into trouble for talking to the opposite gender even though we were brother and sister as this was not allowed...Ken remained in this home till he left to go to work on a farm.

Another former resident shared his experiences in a submission to the Inquiry about being physically and sexually assaulted while in the Home during the 1960s.

In 1965, the hostel part of the Home, located in the old rectory, became known as the Killara Composite Family Home. This was the first family group home on the site for house parents and 10 children. It ran until December 1968, when the children moved to Crecy Home. It was then renamed to the Trigg Working Boys Hostel in 1969, and then closed in 1977 on this site when it was temporarily moved to the Molly-Trigg Cottage on the site of the Church of England Girls' Home.

The Church of England Boys' Home closed in May 1976 when children were placed in group homes at other locations, with the Buckland Memorial Home, Vickery Cottage, Broad Cottage, Spurway Home, and Trigg Home all closing at this time.

John Ingersole who grew up in the boys' home has written about the history of the complex.

According to research done by the staff of the Northern Territory Department of Health, children from the Northern Territory were sent to the Church of England Boys' Home. The Home was also mentioned in the Bringing Them Home Report (1997) as an institution that housed Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children removed from their families.

The Church of England Boys' Home was mentioned in the Lost Innocents Report (2001) as an institution involved in the migration of children to Australia.

Gallery

---

Buckland Memorial Home for Boys

Description: This image was included in The Sydney Morning Herald article titled "Buckland Memorial Home for Boys".

---

Noller Cottage

Description: This is a copy of a photograph of Noller Cottage, which was part of the Church of England Boys' Home. The image was published on the 'Hills Voices Online' website, with the transcript of the oral history interview 'Carlingford - Eric and Lorna McGraw'. Its caption reads: 'Noller Cottage housed the younger boys'.

---

Church of England Boys' Home, Carlingford

Description: This is a copy of a photograph from the Church of England Boys' Home, Carlingford. This image appeared in an article published in Pix on 31 May 1958. The caption reads 'Ray (left) and Ken bringing home the cows'.

---

Church of England Girls' Home [Carlingford]

Description: This photo shows the front of the Church of England Girls' Home at Carlingford. This photo is undated, the date included is an estimate.

---

Old Rectory for St Paul's

Description: This is a copy of a photograph from the collection of Anglicare. The description reads: Old Rectory for St Paul's. Later became the Working Boys Hostel. From Dec 1965 - Dec 1968 it was the first family group home for house parents and 10 children, known as Killara Composite Family Home. This photo is undated, the date included is an estimate.

---

More info

---

Related Entries

Run by

- Church of England Homes \(c. 1884 - 1984\)

Related Events

- Visit of John Moss \(1951\)
John Moss inspected this home as part of his 1951 tour and report
- Interstate movement of Northern Territory children \(1930s - 1970s\)

Related Organisations

- Church of England Girls' Home, Carlingford \(1928 - 1976\)
The Church of England Girls' Home opened on the same site that had previously operated as the Church of England Boys' Home.
- Havilah Little Children's Home \(1918 - 1976\)
Boys at Havilah Little Children's Home were sent to the Church of England Boys' Home
- Carlingford Children's Home \(1914 - 1920\)
- Terrigal Holiday Home \(1942 - current\)

Related Concepts

- Child Migration \(1800s - 1970s\)

Resources

- Community Affairs References Committee, Lost Innocents: Righting the record - Report on child migration, 30 August 2001
- Human Rights and Equal Opportunity Commission, Bringing Them Home: Report of the National Inquiry into the Separation of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Children from their Families, 1997. Relevance: The Church of England Boys' Home was mentioned in the Bringing Them Home Report (1997) as an institution that housed Indigenous children removed from their families
- Where children receive their natural heritage, The Australian Women's Weekly, 2 September 1933
- The Hills Shire Council, Hills Voices Online: Heritage Sites, The Hills: Sydney's Garden Shire, No date. Relevance: 'Carlingford - Eric and Lorna McGraw', date of interview: 30 March 2007
- In Equity, The Sydney Morning Herald, 11 March 1933

Records

---

For more information and to access your records, follow the links below:

Records

- Anglicare Children's Homes, Foster Care and Out-of-Home Care Records \(1932 - 2010s\)
-

You can view this page online by visiting <https://www.findandconnect.gov.au/entity/church-of-england-boys-home/>