

Church of England Girls' Home, Carlingford

1928 – 1976

- Other Names:
- Minden, Carlingford
 - Molly Trigg Cottage
 - TA Field Cottage
 - Tress-Manning Home
 - Carlingford Girls' Homes
 - Mary McGarvey Home for Girls, Carlingford
 - Trigg Working Boys Hostel

Details

The Church of England Girls' Home was opened in Carlingford in 1928, in the same buildings, Minden and No. 2 Home that had previously operated as the Church of England Boys' Home. From 1928, girls were transferred from the four homes of the Child Rescue Home in Glebe Point and No. 2 Home became known as Tress-Manning Home. In August 1929, the Evening News reported that the final girls were being transferred to the newly opened Mary McGarvey Home for Girls on the Carlingford site.

The Home was supported by fundraising activities, including fetes where stalls were held selling items the girls had made.

Gwen Pearce shared recollections from her time in the Home as part of a submission to the Inquiry into Children in Institutional Care:

My first home was a Church of England Home in Carlingford, we used to go out to school there. My brother Ken was in the boys home and we would see each other on the way to school. We would try to talk to each other but would be stopped and get into trouble for talking to the opposite gender even though we were brother and sister as this was not allowed.

In 1956 Minden was demolished and two new homes were built in its place, with Molly Trigg and TA Field Cottages opening that year.

The Church of England Girls' Home began to transition in the late 1960s as children were placed in group homes. In 1969 Tress-Manning Home became a temporary care unit and Molly Trigg and TA Field Cottages underwent renovations to become family group homes. The McGarvey Girls Home, Molly Trigg and TA Field Cottages closed in 1976, and Tress-Manning closed in 1977.

The site continued to be used for a few years with McGarvey Girls Home becoming an administration office, and the Trigg Working Boys Hostel from the Church of England Boys' Home moved into the Molly Trigg Cottage from 1977 to 1979, before moving to a new property in Granville and becoming known as Trigg Hostel. Tress-Manning also briefly operated at this time as a training hostel for children with additional needs. The property was sold in 1980, and Tress-Manning and McGarvey Girls Homes buildings still stand.

According to research done by the staff of the Northern Territory Department of Health, the Church of England Girls' Home, Carlingford was a place where children from the Northern Territory were sent. The Home was also mentioned in the Bringing Them Home Report (1997) as an institution that housed Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children removed from their families.

The Church of England Girls' Home was mentioned in the Lost Innocents Report (2001) as an institution involved in the migration of children to Australia.

Gallery

Church of England Girls' Home [Carlingford]

Description: This photo shows the front of the Church of England Girls' Home at Carlingford. This photo is undated, the date included is an estimate.

Common room, Molly Trigg Home

Description: This is an image of the 'common room' in the Molly Trigg Home, which was a cottage at Church of England Girls' Home at 216 Pennant Hills Road in Carlingford. The caption reads: 'Looking into the delightfully bright Common Room of the Molly Trigg Home'.

McGarvey House - front view, residents, 1 adult, car (1930s)

Description: This is a copy of a photograph from the collection of Anglicare. It shows the Mary McGarvey Home at the Church of England Girls' Home.

More info

Chronology

- Church Rescue Home (1885 - 1929)
 - Church of England Girls' Home, Carlingford (1928 – 1976)

Related Entries

Run by

- Church of England Homes \(c. 1884 - 1984\)

Related Events

- Visit of John Moss \(1951\)
John Moss inspected this home as part of his 1951 tour and report
- Interstate movement of Northern Territory children \(1930s - 1970s\)

Related Organisations

- Church of England Boys' Home \(1918 - 1976\)

The Church of England Girls' Home opened on the same site that had previously operated as the Church of England Boys' Home.

- Havilah Little Children's Home \(1918 - c. 1980\)

Girls were transferred from Havilah Little Children's Home to Church of England Girls' Home, Carlingford

- Carlingford Children's Home \(1914 - 1920\)

Related Concepts

- Child Migration \(1800s - 1970s\)

Resources

- Community Affairs References Committee, Lost Innocents: Righting the record - Report on child migration, 30 August 2001
- Human Rights and Equal Opportunity Commission, Bringing Them Home: Report of the National Inquiry into the Separation of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Children from their Families, 1997. Relevance: The Carlingford Girls' Home was mentioned in the Bringing Them Home Report (1997) as an institution that housed Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children removed from their families
- In Equity, The Sydney Morning Herald, 11 March 1933
- Glebe Care Homes for Children, The Glebe Society, 23 June 2013

Records

For more information and to access your records, follow the links below:

Records

- Anglicare Children's Homes, Foster Care and Out-of-Home Care Records \(1932 - 2010s\)
-

You can view this page online by visiting <https://www.findandconnect.gov.au/entity/church-of-england-girls-home-carlingford-2/>