

Elsie Cook Cottage

c. 1969 – 1977?

Details

---

Elsie Cook Cottage was a hostel for girls who had previously resided at Bailey Cottage that was part of the Methodist Church's Highway House Project. It provided hostel-style accommodation for twelve working age girls and accepted girls who had previously resided at Bailey Cottage and also from Westwood at Bowral.

Elsie Cook Cottage was named in recognition of Mrs Elsie Cook's long service to the Highway House project.

In 1977 the Uniting Church was formed from congregations of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational Churches. The Uniting Church took over the management of the Highway House Project. Around 1979 the residential programmes of the Highway House Project were closed down.
