

Aurala

1992 – 2011

Details

Aurala was a residential program for female wards of the state, run by Save the Children Fund, Queensland. It opened in January 1992 at Victoria Point, and moved location several times. Aurala closed in 2011.

According to an email from Save the Children from 2012, Aurala was established following the closure of Ben White House. Aurala was run according to the 'youth worker model of alternative care'.

More info

Related Entries

Run by

- Save the Children Fund, Queensland \(1919 - current\)

In Missing Pieces (2001), Save the Children stated that they hold no records relating to former residents of Aurala.

Related Organisations

- Ben White House \(February 1980 - May 1991\)

Aurala opened following the closure of Ben White House.

You can view this page online by visiting <https://www.findandconnect.gov.au/entity/aurala/>