

Adelaide Medical Centre for Women and Children

1989 – 1995

Details

The Adelaide Medical Centre for Women and Children was opened in North Adelaide in 1989. It was formed by the combination of the Queen Victoria Hospital and the Adelaide Children's Hospital. In 1995 it was renamed the Women's and Children's Hospital.

More info

Chronology

- Queen Victoria Hospital (1966 - 1989)
- Adelaide Children's Hospital (1876 - 1989)
 - Adelaide Medical Centre for Women and Children (1989 – 1995)
 - Women's and Children's Hospital (1995 - current)

You can view this page online by visiting <https://www.findandconnect.gov.au/entity/adelaide-medical-centre-for-women-and-children/>