

Enfield Hospital

1963 – 1982

Other Names: • Enfield Receiving Home

Details

The Enfield Hospital was the new name given to the Enfield Receiving House in 1963. It continued to operate as a Receiving Home for people with mental health problems and people with intellectual disabilities, including children. State-children with intellectual disabilities continued to be sent to Enfield Hospital. On 1st July, 1979, Enfield Hospital was incorporated with Hillcrest Hospital. Both Hospitals came under the control of a single board of management. In 1981 Enfield Hospital was providing specific purpose rehabilitation programs. By 1982 all patients had been transferred to Hillcrest Hospital.

Gallery

Enfield

Description: The library description states: Administration Block, Enfield Receiving Home.

Enfield

Description: This image shows the buildings of Enfield Receiving House.

Enfield

Description: This image shows the Enfield Receiving House.

More info

Chronology

- Enfield Receiving House (1922 - 1963)
 - Enfield Hospital (1963 – 1982)

Related Entries

Run by

- Hospitals Department, State Government of South Australia \(1940 - 1978\)

Related Organisations

- Hillcrest Hospital \(1964 - 1994\)

When Enfield Hospital closed the remaining patients were transferred to Hillcrest Hospital

You can view this page online by visiting <https://www.findandconnect.gov.au/entity/enfield-hospital/>