

Society for the Care of Crippled Children

1937 – 1988

Other Names: • SCCC

Details

The Society for the Care of Crippled Children was an autonomous branch of the Tasmanian Society for the Care of Crippled Children. It formed in December 1937 to provide services to people affected by the polio epidemic and living in the north of Tasmania. It raised enough funds to buy the premises for St Giles' Home for Crippled Children.
