

Burnie General Hospital

1951 – 1965

Details

Burnie General Hospital, run by the government, opened in August 1951. Its maternity beds remained at the former Darwin Private Hospital, now a part of the new hospital. In 1965, the Burnie General Hospital merged with the Spencer Public Hospital in Wynyard to become the North Western General Hospital.

More info

Chronology

- Darwin Private Hospital (1933 - 1951)
 - Burnie General Hospital (1951 – 1965)

Related Entries

Run by

- Public Health Department, State of Tasmania \(1904 - 1956\)
- Department of Health Services, State of Tasmania \(1956 - 1989\)

Related Organisations

- Spencer Public Hospital \(1918 - 1965\)

In 1965, Spencer Public Hospital amalgamated with Burnie General Hospital to become the North Western General Hospital.

Resources

- Government to rent Darwin Hospital, Advocate, 29 March 1950

Records

Records

- Daily Statement of Admissions, Discharges and Births \(1960 - 1960\)
-

You can view this page online by visiting <https://www.findandconnect.gov.au/entity/burnie-general-hospital/>