

Department of Aboriginal Affairs, State of Western Australia

17 May 2013 – 30 June 2017

Other Names: • Department of Aboriginal Affairs II

Details

The Department of Aboriginal Affairs (DAA) was formed on 17 May 2013, as a new name for the Department of Indigenous Affairs. The DAA has an information service and other resources for Aboriginal family history in Western Australia. On 30 June 2017, the Department of Aboriginal Affairs' functions were divided between four government departments, with the Department of Local Government, Sport and Cultural Industries taking responsibility for the Aboriginal History Research Unit.

More info

Chronology

- Department of Native Affairs, State of Western Australia (1936 - 1954)
 - Department of Native Welfare, State of Western Australia (1955 - 1972)
 - Aboriginal Affairs Planning Authority, State of Western Australia (1972 - 1994)
 - Aboriginal Affairs Department, State of Western Australia (1994 - 2001)
 - Department of Indigenous Affairs, State of Western Australia (1 July 2001 - 16 May 2013)
- Department of Aboriginal Affairs, State of Western Australia (17 May 2013 – 30 June 2017)

Related Entries

Related Organisations

- Department of Local Government, Sport and Cultural Industries, State Government of Western Australia \(1 July 2017 - current\)

Resources

- Department of Aboriginal Affairs/Department of Indigenous Affairs, Annual Reports. Department of Aboriginal Affairs/Department of Indigenous Affairs, 2007 - 2018
- Aboriginal History, State Records Office of Western Australia website, 2012