

South Perth Community Centre Hospital Inc, South Perth Community Hospital

1956 – 2003

Details

The South Perth Community Centre Hospital Inc was established as a community-run, not-for-profit private hospital in 1956. It had a maternity suite from June 1959. From August 1959 to 1980, expectant mothers who were accommodated at the Ngal-a Mothercraft Home and Training Centre Inc (Ngala) in Kensington often had their babies at the hospital. In 2003, the hospital changed its name to South Perth Hospital Inc.

Gallery

South Perth Community Hospital site, c.1950

Description: 'South Perth Community Hospital site, c.1950' is an image from the Picture South Perth Photograph Collection held in the City of South Perth's online collection of historical images. As the sign in the image says, it shows the site of the South Perth Community Centre Inc hospital on South Terrace.

More info

Chronology

- South Perth Community Centre Hospital Inc, South Perth Community Hospital (1956 – 2003)
 - South Perth Hospital Inc (2003 - current)

Related Entries

Related Organisations

- Ngal-a Mothercraft Home and Training Centre Inc \(1956 - 1989\)

Ngal-a Mothercraft Home and Training Centre Inc sent some expectant mothers to the South Perth Community Centre Hospital Inc for the birth of their babies.

Date: 1959 - 1980

Records

Records

- Picture South Perth Photograph Collection \(1870s - 2000s\)
-

You can view this page online by visiting <https://www.findandconnect.gov.au/entity/south-perth-community-centre-hospital-inc/>