

Sacred Heart Mission

1889 – 1891

Details

The Sacred Heart Mission was established at Serpentine Lagoon on the Daly River by Jesuit Missionaries in 1889. It was the second Jesuit mission on the Daly River after the Queen of the Holy Rosary Mission. The Mission struggled to operate for two years. The residents were devastated by epidemics and the crops planted to provide sustenance failed. No Mission dormitory was built. The Sacred Heart Mission closed in 1891.
