

Alice Springs Lutheran Archives

Details

The Alice Springs Lutheran Archives is housed in the former Lutheran Church Building in Alice Springs. The Archives holds records relating to the history of the Lutheran Mission Block and Lutheran cottages on that site. These include photographs, oral history recordings, operational documents, church bulletins and lists of residents and their house parents. Volunteers are collecting photos and stories. The Archives organises cottage reunions and archive open days. They have a free self-guided walking tour of the Mission Block which provides information about its history.

More info

Related Entries

Holds

- Records held by the Alice Springs Lutheran Archives

You can view this page online by visiting <https://www.findandconnect.gov.au/entity/alice-springs-lutheran-archives/>